TO SELL KOCH LAND TO SATISFY A SUIT

Allen Kimmel Wins In Legal Fight Over Partition Of 21 Acres.

Judge Frank Kelly of the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon handed down a decision ordering the sale of the 21-acre tract of land, where the Koch brick manufacturing plant was located on the Perryville road, northwest of the Fairgrounds, which was the subject of a partition suit brought by one of the Koch heirs, Henry Koch.

The decision of the judge is considered a victory for Allen Kimmel, who owns six-ninths of the tract and who opposed the partition of the land in the Circuit Court. The trial of the case last week attracted considerable attention in the County.

The judge in his decision announced that the Court finding that the tract cannot be divided in kind and consequently it will have to be sold by the sheriff at public auction at a sale to be held probably next May.

Several men prominent in the Cape and Cape County as real estate experts, testified at the trial of the case. Mayor Kage was a witness. David A. Glenn was to have testified, but owing to ill health was unable to make the trip to Jackson on that day.

The land in question, was left by the late owner and founder of the brick concern, Henry Koch, to his eight sons and one daughter. Mr. Kimmel purchased the interests held in the estate from six of the sons and for some time had been negotiating with the remaining three for the purchase of their parts.

Herman Koch and Mrs. Gus Grieb, the other two heirs, expressed a willingness to meet the terms of the sale. Henry Koch, however, filed the partition suit.

FRANK W. MORRISON BETTER.

Well-Known Business Man Will Be Confined to Bed for Weeks, It Is Believed.

Frank W. Morrison, President of the Morrison Ice & Fuel Company, who is ill at his home on North Main street with pneumonia, was slightly improved yesterday, but his condition is regarded as serious by the attending physician.

Mr. Morrison contracted a cold, but in spite of it, continued at his desk. Several days ago his physician was summoned, and pronounced Mr. Morrison's ailment as pneumonia.

His attack is not regarded as severe, and his family are not alarmed at his condition, but he will be confined to his home for several weeks, it is feared. Mr. Morrison has enjoyed unusually good health, and his present illness is the first that has kept him confined to his bed in many years.

COUNCIL GIVES MAT MORRISON THE ZERO STARE

Petition to Transplant Blacksmith Shop is Met with a Remonstrance.

GOOSE BONE WIZARD PEEVED AT OUTLOOK

Ordinance Outlining His Course Causes Him Displeasure He Says.

The City Council last night gave the zero stare at Colonel Matt Morrison's proposal to move his blacksmith shop from its present location to the corner of Spanish and Merriweather streets, across the highway from the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Miller.

The Colonel's petition craving the permission of the Council to make the move was met by a remonstrance signed by two-thirds of the property owners in the block where the blacksmith shop would be set up, and acting on this remonstrance, the council referred the petition to the Building Committee, which is composed of S. Edward Blumner, Arthur C. Bowman and Charles Kaess.

The remonstrance was headed and organized by Mrs. Miller, who announced to The Tribune Saturday that she intended to fight the blacksmith shop on the grounds that it is a nuisance.

The Colonel desires to move his shop from building from its location at No. 25 South Spanish street to the southeast corner of Merriweather and Spanish streets, so that he may make room for an ice cream factory to be built there.

In the first petition that was drawn, the Colonel let it be known that his blacksmithy was at stake. Following the announcement of a fight on the corner, the Colonel retained an attorney, Capt. Wilcox Bain, and the petition was presented to the Council was referred so that it carefully avoided saying anything about a blacksmith shop.

The Colonel and his attorney were present and Captain Bain spoke to the Council explaining the legality of blacksmith shops and pointing out the fact that any notion of nuisance may be connected with them.

Following him and the Council, however, was the remonstrance of property owners who described the shop as a nuisance.

The Building Committee was instructed by the Council to investigate the matter and make a report at the next Council meeting, which will be February 7.

The legality of the Colonel's proposition, if the Council finds that a blacksmithy is a nuisance to neighboring residences, is made precarious by a section of the City's ordinance dealing with buildings and fire laws.

The action is taken from Ordinance No. 1019, Section 3 and is as follows:

"No person shall hereafter erect, or cause to be erected, or build any slaughter house, manufacturing plant, oil depot, packing house, livery, sales or feed stables, or any building used for any purpose liable to become offensive or annoying to the neighborhood, within 200 feet of any residence, mercantile building, factory, or other occupied building in the limits of the city, unless two thirds of the property owners of the block in which said slaughter house, manufacturing plant, oil depot, packing house, livery, sales or feed stables, are proposed to be erected, shall first file with the City Clerk their consent, in writing, to the erection of such building or buildings, and the further approval of the City Council to such erection endorsed thereon."

Mr. Morrison's petition was signed by himself only and in contrast with the law, two thirds of the signers in that block had affixed their signatures to the remonstrance.

"Have to ask your neighbors if you want to put up a grocery store or meat market?" the Colonel exclaimed.

"It's absolutely ridiculous to call a blacksmith shop a nuisance. You want to fix it so my neighbors run my business, hey? I ain't askin' any permission to put up a shop there. I only want to move across the street."

"I can leave that roof stand and put up a shed and open up a forge and begin work there tomorrow. That's what I can do! What's to stop me? Anyway, that lot's for sale, if anyone wants to know it."

When the Cape's goose-bone prophet was given a look at the ordinance in the City Clerk's office yesterday and he looked over his glasses at the law, he tugged at his mustache and replied:

"Blank, blank, blankety blank—blank, blankety, blankety, blank—blank business!"

WATER COMPANY ASKS TIME TO INSTALL INTAKE

Report To Public Service Commission Says High River Stage Hindered.

HAS COMPLIED WITH ALL OTHER ORDERS

Delay Is Put Up To City In Letter To Mayor Kage.

A request for an extension of time for the preparation of plans and specifications for a new water intake tower, which the Missouri Public Service Commission ordered the Public Utilities Company to install in the Mississippi river north of the Cape, yesterday was submitted to the City by Secretary T. M. Bradbury of the Commission.

The request for more time on the civil was made in a report to the Public Service Commission made by the Utilities Company and a copy of the report was forwarded to Mayor Kage yesterday, accompanied by Secretary Bradbury's letter.

The additional time for the work is necessitated by the unusually high water in the river this winter, according to the report, and Bradbury asked Mayor Kage to have the City notify him if the City has any objection to the Commission's grant of the request for time.

The Mayor last night declared that he believed the matter will be adjusted and that the City will acquiesce in the matter of granting additional time, for the reason that the high water has made it impossible for the river work to be done under any circumstances.

The report filed by T. M. Bradbury, attorney for the company, and supplementary to the report, bringing on the question of added time for the installation of the intake tower, there were letters from A. M. Tinsley to H. Wardlaw, president of the company, and the J. W. McMurry Contracting Company to the Utilities Company.

In the report, Kage declared that the orders of the Commission in reference to the suits that the city brought against the company, all have been complied with, except the matter of the intake tower.

The settling basin and reservoirs have been washed out by the Utilities Company as suggested by Dr. Ravend, who represented the city, and as the commission ordered.

The high river stage has prevented more than soundings in the work of preparing plans and specifications for the proposed intake tower, which was very unsatisfactory, the report says. The water has been high since April 1915 and at the time that the report was filed in Jefferson City, the river stage in the Cape was 16 feet, the report declared.

The river stage yesterday was more than 25 feet.

The company relied on the McMurry Contracting Company, to perform the work, the report says. The McMurry concern is doing the river improvement work at the foot of Independence street, where the Frisco has been endeavoring to construct a seawall in preparation of river front immediate erection of new depot.

V. E. Funkhouser, superintendent of the Contracting Company declared in his letter to the Utilities Company that it was impossible for the work to be done at the high river stage.

The report also declared that Hurdle No. 3, which was constructed in the Mississippi river on the Illinois side by the United States Government, now is doing its proper work and it tends to remove the sandbar on the Missouri side which has been lying very close to the mouth of the present intake pipe.

The report declares that the Utilities Company believes this relief will be of a permanent nature and Mr. Tinsley in his letter to his chief at St. Louis, declares that owing to the removal of the sand bar, the company here has been pumping a good quality of water. There has been some sand in the water he said.

The report closes with the statement that the company is ready and willing to file plans and specifications for the Cape's intake tower as soon as the river permits the preliminary investigation work to be done properly.

The necessity to wait upon a fall in the river stage may mean that the work will be held in abeyance for another year. The river must fall to a stage of 10 or 11 feet before the work may properly be done and that situation may not come about till next winter.

The letter that Secretary Bradbury wrote to Mayor Kage did not indicate in any manner how much longer the Commission contemplates giving the
